

EVOLUTION OF THINKING

Let me start with a quote from my favorite person,

"The world as we have created it is a process of our thinking. It cannot be changed without changing our thinking."

Yes, the world has evolved a lot. Everything is because of how humans think.

Our ancestors used to think that women have no value in the society and are meant only for the household work. But, where are we now ?

Women work in deep coal mines, they go to space, they work in army and what not? They stand as tough competitors to men in almost every field.

This happened because of the social revolutionaries who fought the against the society with their heretical ideas.

In late 1950's people used to believe that artificial intelligence is harmful and it leads to the destruction of our world. But now, world's top paid jobs are given to the ones who are experts in the fields of machine learning and artificial intelligence.

It's becoming a boom in the field of computer science. Again was made possible only because of the computer scientists such as Alan Turing, Marvin Minsky, John McCarthy and companies like google who influenced people through their thoughts.

This difference between the older generation and younger generation is call as Generation gap. Americans see generational differences, most do not see them as divisive. That is partly because of the areas of difference. The top areas of disagreement between young and old, according to the Pew Research Study, are use of technology and taste in music. Old people back then like folk and classics. But now people are much interested in pop and EDM's.

Apart from all these differences there are many similarities too, afterall we are all human beings.

In case of patriotism, young people are as patriotic as their ancestors. In fact younger generation is coming up with new ideas that help their nation. Blockchains and bitcoins are some of the examples.

Even the passion for reading books and playing football didn't change. Technology has introduced new methods to play football and new devices to read books but, the root passion is still the same.

Love and affection did not change with time. People are affectionate to their beloved ones right now as they used to be in the past.

Example from Streets of Laredo:

Even In the book "Streets of Laredo" written by Marry LcMurthy, there is a character Lorena who is well educated, she helps in educating and readers feel the essence of hesitation from Captain Wodrow Call because she is educated but as per him Women must only stay in house and should not have higher education besides not to work outside the house. Wodrow Call was much older than Lorena in the book.

Example from personal life:

Everyday when I use phone to chat with my friends, my grandmother would ask me rather to go outside and talk to them directly. We even have a lot of small arguments regarding this. Older people are not familiar with the technology right now and even if they are familiar they don't like it as they are not used to it. While the younger ones stay in update with current technology, and they even love to use it.
